

LARGE PORTION OF ITALIAN FLEET SURRENDERS TO ALLIES AT MALTA; BATTLESHIPS AND CRUISERS

Four Battleships, Seven Cruisers and Six Destroyers
Among the Naval Units Which Are Given Up —
Marks Important New Victory For The Allies

By Graham B. Hovey
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 11—A large portion of the Italian fleet, including battleships, cruisers and other naval units, surrendered today to the Allies at Malta.

The Italian men of war put in at the British bastion in the Mediterranean after making their way safely from Italian ports.

(Four battleships, seven cruisers and six destroyers were among the naval units which gave themselves up, Reuter's reported from Valletta, capital of Malta.)

The compliance of the Italian commanders with the armistice terms presented at the time of Italy's surrender marked an important new victory for the Allies and prevented the warships from

Continued On Page Four

Family Honors Lt. Booz
At Delightful Reunion

The family of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Booz, Bristol Township, gathered at their home on Sunday to pay honor to Mr. and Mrs. Booz's son, Lt. Oscar A. Booz, Lt. Booz, in company with several officers, had just completed an inspection tour of gunnery schools in Texas, Mexico and Arizona, the trip being made by airplane, and upon his return he was granted a short leave. His wife had been visiting her parents at Milton, and she and Lt. Booz arrived at his parents' home on September 2nd.

Sunday was enjoyed by all, with dinner being served at 4:30 p. m. Plans were made to hold a family reunion each year, comprising the direct descendants of James M. and Emma Barton Booz.

By-Laws were written, and officers were elected as follows: President, James M. Booz; sec'y, Mrs. N. M. Simons; treasurer, Horace M. Booz; committee of social activities, Mrs. J. Russell Booz and Mrs. F. L. Craven. The date for the reunion will be the second Saturday in September, and the 1944 reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Booz.

Those present on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. James M. Booz, Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Booz and daughter Charlotte, Bristol Township; Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Booz and son "Jimmy" and daughter Arlene, of Emmelle; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson M. Simons and daughters Alice Mae and Ruth Ann, of Bath Road; Mr. and Mrs. F. Leslie Craven and son, Frank Leslie, 3rd, Fallsington; Lt. and Mrs. Oscar A. Booz, Ft. Myers, Fla.

Lt. and Mrs. Booz left Bristol on Labor Day to return to Florida, where Lt. Booz is an instructor in the U. S. Army Air Forces in the Flexible Gunnery School at the Buckingham Army Air Field.

FAILS TO REGISTER; IS HELD UNDER BAIL

Fourth Son of Mrs. Caroline Lovett, of Fallsington, Makes Known Stand

ONE IS NOW IN CAMP

FALLSINGTON, Sept. 11—The fourth son of Mrs. Caroline B. Lovett to make known his stand as a conscientious objector, James S. Lovett, 18, who sent his defiance of the Selective Service Act direct to the office of Attorney General Francis Biddle, in Washington, D. C., has been held in $1000 bail. Lovett is held under bail for the Federal Grand Jury by U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin.

According to FBI agents, young Lovett notified Biddle by letter that he was refusing to register for the draft due to conscientious scruples. He had been reported by his own board as delinquent when he failed to register by the 22nd of August, the deadline.

Continued On Page Four

Miss Letitia McGinley
Dies; Funeral Monday

A long-time resident of Bristol, Miss Letitia McGinley, of 707 Pine street, died at her home yesterday. She was the daughter of the late Dennis and Letitia McGinley.

Surviving Miss McGinley are a sister, Miss Margaret McGinley, Bristol; a brother, Manus McGinley, and a half-brother, James Dugan, of Trenton, N. J.; four nieces and eight nephews.

She was a member of the Blessed Virgin Mary Sodality.

Miss McGinley, who was born in Manch Chunk, had been ill a long time.

The rites will be conducted on Monday at nine a. m., from the W. I. Murphy estate funeral parlors, 316 Jefferson avenue. High Mass will be said in St. Mark's R. C. Church, at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Mark's Cemetery.

FINGERS HUT

When a door slammed shut on her hand Mrs. Laura Lesnevce, Bensalem Township, suffered contused wounds of the second and third fingers. Treatment was administered at Harriman Hospital.

W. C. T. U. SESSION

The monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held on Tuesday evening, at the home of the Misses Rogers, 206 Jefferson avenue, at eight o'clock.

BISHOP TO VISIT

EDDINGTON, Sept. 11—The Rt. Rev. Oliver J. Hart, D. D., bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, will visit Christ Episcopal Church, here, on September 26th, at 11 a. m.; and the Church of the Redeemer, Andalusia, at four p. m.

SOLDIER WOUNDED

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 11—Message has been received by George W. Kohl, Lafayette street, that his son, Tech., 5th grade, Charles J. Kohl, has been wounded in the North African theatre of war.

LOCAL WEATHER OBSERVATIONS

FOR 24 HOUR PERIOD ENDING 8 A. M.
AT ROHM & HAAS WEATHER OBSERVATORY
BRISTOL, PA.

Temperature Readings
Maximum 76 F
Minimum 50 F
Range 26 F

Hourly Temperatures
8 a. m. yesterday 56
9 58
10 61
11 64
12 noon 66
1 p. m. 69
2 72
3 74
4 74
5 76
6 72
7 70
8 67
9 62
10 58
11 55
12 midnight 55
1 a. m. today 55
2 54
3 51
4 50
5 50
6 53
7 53
8 53

P. C. Relative Humidity 81
Precipitation (inches) 0

TIDES AT BRISTOL

High water ... 1.13 a. m., 1.39 p. m.
Low water ... 8.23 a. m., 8.39 p. m.

To the People of this Community:

HELP BRING THEM HOME!

What do our men wish most as they battle their way into Hitler's Europe and toward the heart of cruel Japan?

"U. S. earth to stand on."

That's the way one American fighting man answered the question. That means homecoming. You have the power to bring them home sooner. Even a few hours sooner will mean more of our boys marching off gang-planks to your arms instead of into machine gun fire.

They are your boys, boys from virtually every home in the land. They're away only because you're in danger and as soon as they rid you of that danger they're coming home.

Your War Bonds are their tickets home. Buy an extra $100 War Bond today. The Third War Loan is your urgent business.

ANNOUNCE CASES TO BE TRIED AT COURT

September Term Opens On Monday With Grand
Jury in Session

33 CASES ARE LISTED

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 11—The complete list of cases to be tried at the September term of Bucks County Criminal Court as prepared by District Attorney Edward G. Bleser and Assistant District Attorney Willard Curtin has been made public.

The grand jury meets Monday and jury trials will start on Monday, September 20th.

The list of cases is as follows:

New cases:

Operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor: George Peterman, Doylestown; Edward Mount, Bristol; Cesare Di Mazza, Bristol.

Assault and battery: Wm. Kelsey, Fletcher McNeal and Lieut. Finney, all of Trenton; Emidio Cicanti, Bristol; Joseph Kennedy, Langhorne Rd.; Harry W. Johnson, Bristol; Thomas Meyers, Crofton.

Aggravated assault and battery and assault and battery: Charles Tracey, Parkland; Lucinda Williams, Bensalem township.

Assault and battery with intent to kill, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery: Walter Rice, Crofton.

Open lewdness: Leo Loewenthal, Maplewood, N. J.; Francis Tomlinson, Langhorne.

Larceny, receiving stolen goods: Robert Neff, Buckingham township; Anthony Still, Buckingham; Thomas Atwood and James McElhaugh, both of Philadelphia.

Burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods: Walter Charles Sheip; Alf Christensen, Warrington; Arthur Henry Flora, Reverse; Chester Fair, Ferndale; James Macanuck and William Taber, of Philadelphia.

Receiving stolen goods: Henry Spielberger, Crofton.

Sodomy: Morris Frey, Trenton.

Involuntary manslaughter: E. O. Mastin, Quakertown RD.

Common nuisance: Susan Krajcan, Camden, N. J.

Unlawful sale of lottery tickets: Edgar Leach, Bristol.

Unlawful exposure of poison: Paul Pearl, South Langhorne.

Maintaining a disorderly house: James Bishop, New Hope.

Obtaining money under false pretense: James Myers, Doylestown.

Continued cases:

Operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor: Stanley W. Sell, Trumbauersville.

Adultery and fornication and bastardy: John David Page, Riegelsville.

Setting up gambling establishment, permitting assemblage for gambling, renting premises for gambling: Vito Larosa and Clifford Bills, both of Bristol. (not to be tried this term.)

Army Requests
Worry Coal Men

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—An estimate by Army officials that Italy and North Africa will need 20,000,000 tons of U. S. coal within the next year has created consternation among coal operators, it was learned today.

Operators who are in Washington to discuss wage adjustments with officials of the United Mine Workers said the Army requests complicated an already confused domestic coal situation, resulting from the tremendous demand of Eastern war industries and the disturbed situation in the mines.

Spaghetti Dinner Is Served To Club Members

A spaghetti dinner was served to the H. H. Club members at the home of Mrs. Lillian Hensor, Jefferson avenue, on Thursday evening. Games and dancing were enjoyed.

Those present: Mrs. Frank Mulhern, Mrs. Daniel Kervick, Mrs. Richard Crosby, Mrs. Daniel Dugan, Mrs. Vincent Genco, Mrs. Edgar Scheffey, Mrs. Joseph Kervick, Mrs. James Dugan.

WITNESSES TESTIFY IN TRAIN WRECK PROBE

Two Men Say Journal Box Was in Perfect Condition at Washington

APPRECIATION SHOWN

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11—Two men testified yesterday that the left front journal on the seventh car of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Congressional Limited, blamed for wrecking the flyer at Frankford Junction last Monday night when it burned out, was in perfect condition when the train left Washington.

The witnesses were the oiler and inspector who attended personally to the journal boxes of the train before it began its ill-fated Labor Day run at 4 p. m.

Continued On Page Four

HULMEVILLE

Through gifts of A. Marek and patrons of the Hulmeville Hotel, the sum of $40.70 has been turned over to the Memorial Committee of Hulmeville, as a contribution to the service men from the borough. The committee is in charge of funds which will be in charge of funds of the service men in any way said committee sees fit.

PROMOTED TO 1ST LT.

Lt. Anthony Sabatini, who is stationed at Camp Wheeler, Ga., has been promoted from the rank of second lieutenant to that of first lieutenant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sabatini, Magnolia Road.

LIBRARY CLOSED

The Bristol Free Library will be closed this afternoon, and will not open until evening, due to funeral rites of the president of the board of directors, Clifford L. Anderson, being held today.

Classified ads deliver the goods.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Victory Inevitable, But—

Washington, Sept. 9. THE danger of the "victory" con- viction, which, naturally, has tremendously deepened with the great news of the Italian surrender, is, as the President pointed out yesterday, that it will cause us to "let down" or "let up." Victory is not so inevitable that it might not be lost by letting down or letting up, and pretty solemn warnings to this effect were given last week by the highest British and American military and civil authorities before the Italian surrender was announced, but not before it was known by some at the top.

—O—

IT IS true that all the war news now seems very good. On the Russian front the Germans are in a low water ... 8.23 a. m., 8.39 p. m. treat. Following Tunisia and Sicily,

CLIFFORD L. ANDERSON

A great man has passed on.

Everyone who knew Clifford Anderson knew the greatness of his character. His constructive mind and far-reaching intellect are visible in every part of the municipal government which he, as Burgess, directed for 26 years. Bristol needs no nobler monument to the memory of the man whose warm beneficence and compassionate understanding of human problems are inextricably a part of this community's vitality, progress and prosperity.

To him the foundation of America was the faith of its people.

Clifford Anderson's faith in the people of Bristol and theirs in him, was an enduring, immutable faith that helped to open wide the Borough's portals so that those within and those to come might enjoy abundantly the blessings and riches of God's creation.

The cornerstone of his philosophy was liberty; its facade was justice; its carvings were prosperity, and its embodied spirit the happiness and security of his fellow men.

Only a self-made man such as Clifford Anderson could have the profundity of human knowledge that goes into successful administration of municipal affairs. He was tireless in the performance of duty. His earnestness and impartiality; his kindness and benevolence earned him as a great public servant and gave effulgence to his achievements.

The intrinsic, unfathomable qualities of greatness were as much Clifford Anderson's in his sphere as those of other great Americans whose attainments swept the horizon of human endeavor. Clifford Anderson loved Bristol and its people; he was content to remain here. He served this community with no thought of glory or reward. He made friendships and kept them. His fingers were constantly on the pulse of public life. He built securely on the solid foundation of eternal truths as he breathed life and encouragement into this responsive municipality.

The pattern of American folklore was woven by the Clifford Andersons to whom public office was a hallowed responsibility. As a boy, Clifford Anderson learned the real meaning of work and thrift and the poignant lessons of his adolescence were to form the keystone of his later success as an industrial and public leader.

His first "job," at the age of 17, was with a Boston leather firm, where for ten years he studied and absorbed the rudiments of that business. In 1899, just at the turn of the century, he became associated with the Corona Kid Manufacturing Company and came to Bristol which, to him, was a flowering paradise on the majestic Delaware. Even in those halcyon days, Clifford Anderson was looking ahead. He envisioned great things for Bristol and became a moving figure in the pageantry of this community's rise and expansion. Not given to idyllic dreams

Continued On Page Four

TULLYTOWN SCHOOLS WILL OPEN MONDAY

Starting of Fall Term Was Delayed To Aid Farmers With Crops

SAME STAFF RETURNS

TULLYTOWN, Sept. 11—The Tullytown public school will open on Monday, September 13th, the delay of a week having afforded students an opportunity to aid the farmers in harvesting of crops.

The three women who formed the faculty last term will continue to teach for the 1943-44 term. They include: Mrs. George Colville, grades five and six; Miss S. Elsie Ettenger, grades three and four; Mrs. Chester Bloomfield, grades one and two.

The Tullytown school work is outlined similarly to that for grades at Falls Township schools, so that when pupils leave the elementary grades they can enter junior high at Falls Township with the course outlined for pupils there.

MORRISVILLE CLUB PROGRAMS ANNOUNCED

Numerous Speakers Have Been Booked For Month of September

MEMBERS PAY VISITS

MORRISVILLE, Sept. 11—Neal Nolan, program chairman of Morrisville Rotary Club, announces an excellent program for club meetings during the next few weeks.

On September 16th, State Assemblyman Thomas B. Stockham will speak on "Post-War Morrisville." On September 23rd, the club will hold a picnic at Lower Makefield School, with Eldon Sowers chair.

Continued On Page Four

ON FURLOUGH

Pvt. Melvin E. Vandine, of the U. S. Marine Corps, is spending a ten days' furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Vandine, Pine street. After finishing his training at Parris Island, S. C., he was transferred to the Marine Air Base at Cherry Point, N. C.

Buses Stop at Wilmington

Wilmington, Del.—A surprise work stoppage by 125 operators of the Delaware Coach Company today left war-vital Wilmington without bus or trolley service for its 125,000 residents.

The striking operators left their jobs without warning this morning, while hundreds of persons waited on street corners unaware that service had stopped.

Union members said the walkout was the result of the discharge last night of a fellow worker with 22 years' service. They added, however, that they would press for a two-cents-an-hour wage increase.

Meanwhile war plant officials, reporting production delayed by failure of many employees to appear on time, sought to mobilize private automobiles and taxicabs to transport workers.

Four Companies of German Infantry Wiped Out

London—Four companies of German infantry were wiped out and seven German planes shot down by the Italians at Milan before that northern industrial city capitulated to Nazi assault an Exchange Telegraph Company dispatch quoting the Algiers radio said today.

The air bombardment of Milan was said to be comparable to an assault by Nazi planes on the Italian garrison at Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

Thousands of Italian railroad men in central Italy were said to have refused to work for the Germans. Sabotage throughout Italy was said to be widespread.

Clifford L. Anderson

A great man has passed on.

Everyone who knew Clifford Anderson knew the greatness of his character. His constructive mind and far-reaching intellect are visible in every part of the municipal government which he, as Burgess, directed for 26 years. Bristol needs no nobler monument to the memory of the man whose warm beneficence and compassionate understanding of human problems are inextricably a part of this community's vitality, progress and prosperity.

To him the foundation of America was the faith of its people.

Clifford Anderson's faith in the people of Bristol and theirs in him, was an enduring, immutable faith that helped to open wide the Borough's portals so that those within and those to come might enjoy abundantly the blessings and riches of God's creation.

The cornerstone of his philosophy was liberty; its facade was justice; its carvings were prosperity, and its embodied spirit the happiness and security of his fellow men.

Only a self-made man such as Clifford Anderson could have the profundity of human knowledge that goes into successful administration of municipal affairs. He was tireless in the performance of duty. His earnestness and impartiality; his kindness and benevolence earned him as a great public servant and gave effulgence to his achievements.

The intrinsic, unfathomable qualities of greatness were as much Clifford Anderson's in his sphere as those of other great Americans whose attainments swept the horizon of human endeavor. Clifford Anderson loved Bristol and its people; he was content to remain here. He served this community with no thought of glory or reward. He made friendships and kept them. His fingers were constantly on the pulse of public life. He built securely on the solid foundation of eternal truths as he breathed life and encouragement into this responsive municipality.

The pattern of American folklore was woven by the Clifford Andersons to whom public office was a hallowed responsibility. As a boy, Clifford Anderson learned the real meaning of work and thrift and the poignant lessons of his adolescence were to form the keystone of his later success as an industrial and public leader.

His first "job," at the age of 17, was with a Boston leather firm, where for ten years he studied and absorbed the rudiments of that business. In 1899, just at the turn of the century, he became associated with the Corona Kid Manufacturing Company and came to Bristol which, to him, was a flowering paradise on the majestic Delaware. Even in those halcyon days, Clifford Anderson was looking ahead. He envisioned great things for Bristol and became a moving figure in the pageantry of this community's rise and expansion. Not given to idyllic dreams

Continued On Page Four

SEVERAL ORDERED
TO PAY SUPPORT
FOR THEIR FAMILIES

Cases Heard During Past Few Days By Bucks County Judges

SOME RESIDE HERE

One Man Charged With Failure To Pay Previous Support Order

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 11—Judge Calvin S. Boyer directed Joseph Morrow, of Bristol, to pay his wife, Mamie, $8 a week in support of her son, Anthony. In making the order, Judge Boyer suggested the couple consider living together again for the sake of the child. The couple was separated June 1, 1942, reasons on which they could not agree, although both intimated "in-law" trouble. They were married in 1939. Morrow is 35 and his wife is 24.

James Eisenbrey, Bristol, was directed by Judge Boyer to pay his wife, Alice, of Emmelle, $15 a week for her support and $8 a week for the support of a son, James, Jr. The Court cautioned Mrs. Eisenbrey not to influence the child against his father. Eisenbrey is now living with his parents at Woodside. His

Continued On Page Four

HOLD CELEBRATION,
OUR LADY OF LORETO

High Mass in St. Ann's is Followed By A Street Procession

MANY PARTICIPATE

The celebration of Our Lady of Loreto occurred here today with many members of St. Ann's Roman Catholic parish participating.

There was high mass at nine o'clock in St. Ann's Church, followed by a procession in the streets of the parish. The band music which usually accompanies the procession was dispensed with out of respect to the late Burgess Clifford L. Anderson, for whom funeral services will be held this afternoon.

The Loreto Society sponsored today's ceremony at St. Ann's, with members of that organization, Mt. Carmel Society, Our Lady of Grace Society, Junior Holy Name Society, and young women of the Miraculous Medal Society, and others in the procession. Children in the procession were dressed as pages and as angels, some riding on a hand-somely decorated float.

The Rev. Fr. Peter Pineda is the pastor of St. Ann's.

Car Badly Smashed
When It Hits Post

A car operated by a woman crashed into the thick granite post which for years has been along the curbline of the Bell Apartment House, Radcliffe and Lafayette streets, early today. The post was knocked out of the ground and the car smashed so badly that it had to be towed away.

The driver of the car was Maria Egoroff, 1247 Radcliffe street. She told police that she fell asleep at the wheel. The accident occurred at about 2:12 o'clock this morning. Miss Egoroff was alone and was driving the car of Lydia Herrman, of the same address.

Miss Egoroff was not injured. The granite post was knocked out of the ground and the sidewalk broken. The accident was investigated by Sergeant Perry and Officer Stackhouse.

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

HARLINGEN ARMY AIR FIELD, Texas, Sept. 11—A graduate this week of the Harlingen flexible gunnery school who qualified as an expert aerial trigger-man after six weeks of intensive training and now wears the silver wings of a Gunner-Sergeant is William A. George, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. George, 212 Radcliffe street, Bristol, Pa.

He was promoted to sergeant and received his diploma and wings at brief exercises held here and, unless held over to serve as an instructor, will depart immediately to join a combat crew aboard a U. S. bomber. Before learning to "double in gunnery," he completed one other course either in radio, radar, air mechanics or armament and qualified as an air crew technician.

While at Harlingen he fired every type weapon from BB and camera guns to .50 caliber Brownings, spent from 12 to 16 hours daily on the ground and in the air mastering the course of instruction and training eyes, nerves and fingers to split-second timing. He climaxed the course by firing on towed targets from Texan training planes and medium bombers. This thorough training at every phase of aerial warfare qualifies him for his role as Gunner-Technician-Sergeant—the world's best.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Buses Stop at Wilmington

Wilmington, Del.—A surprise work stoppage by 125 operators of the Delaware Coach Company today left war-vital Wilmington without bus or trolley service for its 125,000 residents.

The striking operators left their jobs without warning this morning, while hundreds of persons waited on street corners unaware that service had stopped.

Union members said the walkout was the result of the discharge last night of a fellow worker with 22 years' service. They added, however, that they would press for a two-cents-an-hour wage increase.

Meanwhile war plant officials, reporting production delayed by failure of many employees to appear on time, sought to mobilize private automobiles and taxicabs to transport workers.

Four Companies of German Infantry Wiped Out

London—Four companies of German infantry were wiped out and seven German planes shot down by the Italians at Milan before that northern industrial city capitulated to Nazi assault an Exchange Telegraph Company dispatch quoting the Algiers radio said today.

The air bombardment of Milan was said to be comparable to an assault by Nazi planes on the Italian garrison at Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

Thousands of Italian railroad men in central Italy were said to have refused to work for the Germans. Sabotage throughout Italy was said to be widespread.

CLIFFORD L. ANDERSON

A great man has passed on.

Everyone who knew Clifford Anderson knew the greatness of his character. His constructive mind and far-reaching intellect are visible in every part of the municipal government which he, as Burgess, directed for 26 years. Bristol needs no nobler monument to the memory of the man whose warm beneficence and compassionate understanding of human problems are inextricably a part of this community's vitality, progress and prosperity.

To him the foundation of America was the faith of its people.

Clifford Anderson's faith in the people of Bristol and theirs in him, was an enduring, immutable faith that helped to open wide the Borough's portals so that those within and those to come might enjoy abundantly the blessings and riches of God's creation.

The cornerstone of his philosophy was liberty; its facade was justice; its carvings were prosperity, and its embodied spirit the happiness and security of his fellow men.

Only a self-made man such as Clifford Anderson could have the profundity of human knowledge that goes into successful administration of municipal affairs. He was tireless in the performance of duty. His earnestness and impartiality; his kindness and benevolence earned him as a great public servant and gave effulgence to his achievements.

The intrinsic, unfathomable qualities of greatness were as much Clifford Anderson's in his sphere as those of other great Americans whose attainments swept the horizon of human endeavor. Clifford Anderson loved Bristol and its people; he was content to remain here. He served this community with no thought of glory or reward. He made friendships and kept them. His fingers were constantly on the pulse of public life. He built securely on the solid foundation of eternal truths as he breathed life and encouragement into this responsive municipality.

The pattern of American folklore was woven by the Clifford Andersons to whom public office was a hallowed responsibility. As a boy, Clifford Anderson learned the real meaning of work and thrift and the poignant lessons of his adolescence were to form the keystone of his later success as an industrial and public leader.

His first "job," at the age of 17, was with a Boston leather firm, where for ten years he studied and absorbed the rudiments of that business. In 1899, just at the turn of the century, he became associated with the Corona Kid Manufacturing Company and came to Bristol which, to him, was a flowering paradise on the majestic Delaware. Even in those halcyon days, Clifford Anderson was looking ahead. He envisioned great things for Bristol and became a moving figure in the pageantry of this community's rise and expansion. Not given to idyllic dreams

Continued On Page Four

SEVERAL ORDERED
TO PAY SUPPORT
FOR THEIR FAMILIES

Cases Heard During Past Few Days By Bucks County Judges

SOME RESIDE HERE

One Man Charged With Failure To Pay Previous Support Order

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 11—Judge Calvin S. Boyer directed Joseph Morrow, of Bristol, to pay his wife, Mamie, $8 a week in support of her son, Anthony. In making the order, Judge Boyer suggested the couple consider living together again for the sake of the child. The couple was separated June 1, 1942, reasons on which they could not agree, although both intimated "in-law" trouble. They were married in 1939. Morrow is 35 and his wife is 24.

James Eisenbrey, Bristol, was directed by Judge Boyer to pay his wife, Alice, of Emmelle, $15 a week for her support and $8 a week for the support of a son, James, Jr. The Court cautioned Mrs. Eisenbrey not to influence the child against his father. Eisenbrey is now living with his parents at Woodside. His

Continued On Page Four

HOLD CELEBRATION,
OUR LADY OF LORETO

High Mass in St. Ann's is Followed By A Street Procession

MANY PARTICIPATE

The celebration of Our Lady of Loreto occurred here today with many members of St. Ann's Roman Catholic parish participating.

There was high mass at nine o'clock in St. Ann's Church, followed by a procession in the streets of the parish. The band music which usually accompanies the procession was dispensed with out of respect to the late Burgess Clifford L. Anderson, for whom funeral services will be held this afternoon.

The Loreto Society sponsored today's ceremony at St. Ann's, with members of that organization, Mt. Carmel Society, Our Lady of Grace Society, Junior Holy Name Society, and young women of the Miraculous Medal Society, and others in the procession. Children in the procession were dressed as pages and as angels, some riding on a hand-somely decorated float.

The Rev. Fr. Peter Pineda is the pastor of St. Ann's.

Car Badly Smashed
When It Hits Post

A car operated by a woman crashed into the thick granite post which for years has been along the curbline of the Bell Apartment House, Radcliffe and Lafayette streets, early today. The post was knocked out of the ground and the car smashed so badly that it had to be towed away.

The driver of the car was Maria Egoroff, 1247 Radcliffe street. She told police that she fell asleep at the wheel. The accident occurred at about 2:12 o'clock this morning. Miss Egoroff was alone and was driving the car of Lydia Herrman, of the same address.

Miss Egoroff was not injured. The granite post was knocked out of the ground and the sidewalk broken. The accident was investigated by Sergeant Perry and Officer Stackhouse.

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

HARLINGEN ARMY AIR FIELD, Texas, Sept. 11—A graduate this week of the Harlingen flexible gunnery school who qualified as an expert aerial trigger-man after six weeks of intensive training and now wears the silver wings of a Gunner-Sergeant is William A. George, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. George, 212 Radcliffe street, Bristol, Pa.

He was promoted to sergeant and received his diploma and wings at brief exercises held here and, unless held over to serve as an instructor, will depart immediately to join a combat crew aboard a U. S. bomber. Before learning to "double in gunnery," he completed one other course either in radio, radar, air mechanics or armament and qualified as an air crew technician.

While at Harlingen he fired every type weapon from BB and camera guns to .50 caliber Brownings, spent from 12 to 16 hours daily on the ground and in the air mastering the course of instruction and training eyes, nerves and fingers to split-second timing. He climaxed the course by firing on towed targets from Texan training planes and medium bombers. This thorough training at every phase of aerial warfare qualifies him for his role as Gunner-Technician-Sergeant—the world's best.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Buses Stop at Wilmington

Wilmington, Del.—A surprise work stoppage by 125 operators of the Delaware Coach Company today left war-vital Wilmington without bus or trolley service for its 125,000 residents.

The striking operators left their jobs without warning this morning, while hundreds of persons waited on street corners unaware that service had stopped.

Union members said the walkout was the result of the discharge last night of a fellow worker with 22 years' service. They added, however, that they would press for a two-cents-an-hour wage increase.

Meanwhile war plant officials, reporting production delayed by failure of many employees to appear on time, sought to mobilize private automobiles and taxicabs to transport workers.

Four Companies of German Infantry Wiped Out

London—Four companies of German infantry were wiped out and seven German planes shot down by the Italians at Milan before that northern industrial city capitulated to Nazi assault an Exchange Telegraph Company dispatch quoting the Algiers radio said today.

The air bombardment of Milan was said to be comparable to an assault by Nazi planes on the Italian garrison at Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

Thousands of Italian railroad men in central Italy were said to have refused to work for the Germans. Sabotage throughout Italy was said to be widespread.

The Bristol Courier

Established 1910
Published Every Evening (Except Sunday) at Beaver and Garden Sts., Bristol, Pa. Bell Phone 846.
Only Daily Paper in Lower Bucks County

BRISTOL PRINTING COMPANY
Owner and Publisher
Incorporated May 27, 1914
Serrill D. Detlefsen, President
Serrill D. Detlefsen, Managing Editor
Ellie E. Kachell, Secretary
Cecilia D. Thorne, Treasurer
Subscription Price per year, in advance, $4.00; Six Months, $2.00; Three Months, $1.00.
The Courier is delivered by carrier in Bristol, Edgely, Tullitown, Bridgewater, Providence, Andalusia, West Bristol, Humesville, Bath Addition, Newportville and Torresdale Manor for ten cents a week.

JOHN PRINTING
The Courier has the most complete commercial printing department in Bucks County. Work of any description promptly and satisfactorily done.

Entered as Second Class Mail matter at the Post Office at Bristol, Pa. under the Act of March 3, 1879.
"International News Service has the exclusive rights to use for republication in any form all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper. It is also exclusively entitled to use for republication all the local or undated news published herein."

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1943

VICTORY GARDENS

Twenty million Victory gardeners are harvesting or have harvested crops worth a billion dollars, according to estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture and Stanford University. These totals surprised the government officials who urged public devotion to gardening. The response surpassed their most optimistic expectations.

Several curious results of the gardening drive have been noted. In some cities the experts made surveys and advised against planting in certain "blighted" areas. Vegetables would not grow there, it was owlily stated. But the town farmer, with a born distrust of experts rivaling that of his rural contemporary, went ahead with his spading, raking and seeding. Results have been amazing. Production was tremendous on lots that formerly were dumping places for ashes and tin cans.

Keen rivalry developed among states and regions. Los Angeles claimed to be the Victory Garden spot of the world, with natives declaring their corn to be taller than Iowa's. Many other areas brand these Los Angeles claims as counterfeit.

Tentative surveys indicate that nearly all of this year's gardeners will continue next year and will be joined by thousands of others. The advice is to start that 1944 Victory Garden now. Breaking ground this fall for spring planting will assure much greater yields. And there is not the slightest chance that the produce of Victory Gardens will not be needed again next year.

MERITED PROMOTION

Promotion of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to the permanent rank of major general is no more than the general's due. If the war had ended before the promotion was made, General Eisenhower would have reverted from full general to his former permanent rank of colonel, a grade hardly consistent with his marked qualities of leadership.

General Eisenhower has distinguished himself as the Allied commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean theatre of war. The job he has done was not easy. He had to co-ordinate American, British, Canadian and French forces of all branches under his command and see that they all worked together smoothly. Many a commander has failed in such an undertaking. The history of wars is full of instances in which Allies bickered and fell out and lost the advantage whole-hearted co-operation would have given them.

Such was not the case with the Allied forces under General Eisenhower. Subordinate commands were neatly dovetailed so that authority and responsibility were evenly shared. General Eisenhower made it clear he would stand for no prejudices or disagreements. All differences of opinion were quickly and effectively ironed out. The result, as the conquests of Tunisia and Sicily showed, was teamwork of the highest type.

REV. HAAS TO SPEAK AT UNION SERVICE

Will Be Held In First Baptist Church On Sunday Evening

NEWS OF CHURCHES

The Rev. W. E. Preston Haas, pastor of Bristol Methodist Church, will speak at the union service tomorrow evening in First Baptist Church at eight o'clock.

Other services in First Baptist Church will be: Sunday School, 10 a. m.; worship service, 11, with the Rev. A. T. O. Marks, of Philadelphia Baptist Union, preaching.

Bristol Methodist Church

Corner of Mulberry and Cedar streets: 9:45 a. m., session of the Church School; 11 a. m., divine worship, the pastor, the Rev. W. E. Preston Haas, will occupy the pulpit and preach on the subject, "The Triumph Technique;" 6:45 p. m., meeting of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, William Thompson, leader, subject, "The Local Church and Its Community Responsibility." Eight p. m., summer union service in the First Baptist Church.

Harrison Methodist Church

Edward K. Knetter, pastor, 255 Harrison street; services for Sunday: Sunday School, ten a. m.; morning worship, 11:15; the Youth Fellowship is beginning its fall activities, and meetings will be held every Sunday evening at seven; evening service, eight. Dr. A. M. Witwer will be present, and immediately afterwards will conduct the fourth quarterly conference.

Activities for the week are: Men's Group, Monday at 7:30 p. m.; Girl Scouts, Tuesday and Wednesday at seven p. m.; Boy Scouts, Thursday at seven p. m.; Woman's Society of Christian Service meeting, Thursday evening at eight p. m.; prayer service, Friday, 7:30 p. m.; choir rehearsal, 8:30 p. m.; junior choir rehearsal, Saturday, 10 a. m.

Bristol Presbyterian Church

The services in Bristol Presbyterian Church on the Sabbath will be as follows: 9:45 a. m., Church School, under direction of Fred Herman and Adrian Bustraan; 10 a. m., men's Bible class, taught by the Rev. James R. Galley; 11, morning worship service, sermon by the pastor, "What Is Usefulness?"; seven p. m., Senior Christian Endeavor, the leader will be Fred Herman.

St. James' P. E. Church

Services for Sunday: Eight a. m., Holy Communion; 9:30 a. m., Church School and Bible classes; 10:45, morning prayer and sermon. The rector will preach and officiate at all services, and there will be special music by the choir.

The Church School will resume its sessions on Sunday and parents having children not yet enrolled are asked to send children this Sunday. Teachers for the Church School will be needed for both boys' and girls' classes, and the rector will be grateful for more help in the Sunday School.

Pictures of the interior of the church taken on anniversary Sunday will be on display after church and can be purchased at a small cost.

Choir rehearsal will be held on Thursday evening at eight in the church.

Calvary Baptist Church

The Rev. Lehman Strauss, pastor; Sunday 9:45 a. m., Bible School, free bus transportation; 11 a. m., morning worship, sermon by the pastor, "The Peril and Protection of the Believer," the fifth in a series of messages from the First Epistle of John; 6:45 p. m., prayer group; seven p. m., B. Y. P. U.; 7:45 p. m., evangelistic service, congregational hymn sing, orchestra, followed by a gospel message by the pastor.

Tuesday, eight p. m., praise, prayer, and Bible study, Revelation, chapter eight; Thursday, seven p. m., all are invited to attend the Gospel service for the Jamaicans at the King Farm.

PERSONAL NOTES

Mrs. L. V. Angus and daughter Jean, Mrs. Milner Dyer, Bristol, and Miss Jacquelyn Sneed, Harrisburg, have returned home after spending a week's vacation at Miami Beach, Fla., visiting Pvt.

colleagues, and Miss Glenn. As a matter of fact I lay more stress on what a trained observer like you insists on forgetting."

He let that soak into my befuddled brain cells. Then he said without stress: "Here's another memory test. Do you recall a dinner at the Everards' ten days ago?"

"Why, yes. It was a week ago Saturday."

"That's a nice, definite statement. Try to make a few more of 'em, Miss Glenn. Now, Sergeant O'Toole, you please tell us what Wing had to say in regard to that occasion."

The sergeant turned the leaves of his notebook and read: "Missy Aunt Flo say Mr. Pete need money we can write play. Say Commodore shall give. Commodore say he fix Mr. Pete."

I hesitated. I didn't quite know why.

"Is that what the Commodore said?" Chief Calvin demanded.

"That's the gist of it."

"Ah, so your memory is reviving," my police quizzier purred. "Then you're not denying that Commodore Knowlton threatened Pete Everard's life?"

I couldn't deny it.

But it is one thing to suspect and fear your enemy and another to swear his life away. I had hated Commodore Knowlton for years. Because of that ancient grudge, because I was so eager for a scapegoat behind whom to hide Greg, I was almost afraid to answer that question.

The chief leaned forward and fixed his opaque brown eyes on me with an expression I couldn't fathom.

There was a dog killed here some weeks ago, wasn't there, Miss Glenn?"

"Yes. But who told you that?"

"A witness volunteered the information. The witness also said you believed that Commodore Knowlton had struck the beast over the head."

"Yes," I said, and wondered if State's Attorney Drummond were the witness of whose anonymity the chief was so careful.

"Do you believe Commodore Knowlton killed that dog?"

"What's the difference what I believe?"

"That's a good enough answer. Miss Glenn, have you ever heard the theory that a killer leaves his mark on his work?"

"What do you mean, Chief Calvin?"

Sergeant O'Toole answered for him. "The chief means that a stranger is always after strangling; a spaleep that's quick and the knife keeps right on using it; and a gunman don't fancy any weapon but his gat."

Commodore Knowlton killed Mr. Everard, didn't he?" I asked blandly.

"He was killed by a blow over the left temple—a blow delivered with great force and presumably by a waffle iron." Then the chief said abruptly: "What were Commodore Knowlton's exact words when he said he'd fix Pete?"

"He said Mrs. Knowlton should leave Pete to him. That he'd take care of him."

"And his manner. He got to his feet and brandished that gold-knobbed cane he always carries, didn't he?"

"Yes," I replied.

"You've asked me several times to aid us in the performance of our duty." The chief's smooth, low voice was vaguely threatening as he added: "And Mrs. Knowlton was extremely fond of her nephew, wasn't she?"

"I think so." What I had seen behind the Everard hedge on Sunday could not be explained in any other way.

"You only—think," Miss Glenn?"

The insistence, the steady pressure, was too much for me. "Mrs. Knowlton adored Pete and the Commodore despised him."

(To be continued)

Copyright by Lillian Lauferty.
Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The Crimson Thread by LILIAN LAUFERTY

CHAPTER TWENTY

Josephine stiffened. "Why should I need an alibi? I hardly knew Mr. Everard. I've only been here a month and I'm a little too old to notice a man young enough to be my son. Anyway I'm Miss Glenn's housekeeper and cook. If I don't get busy in the kitchen, you folks won't have dinner much before midnight."

"He's O. K. by me," Roney said and got up with heavy reluctance to open the screen door for Josephine.

"I wouldn't mind sitting down to dinner myself right now. But Chief Calvin's probably looking for me."

"Let's go!" Jack snapped.

"What's all the rush? Why don't you stay to dinner?" I asked. Suddenly it seemed very important to detain them.

Jack's smile was oblique. "A few minutes ago I told you that we were suspicious of everyone who was on the loose at six-fifteen last night. We've got to question them all. Commodore Knowlton, your esteemed aunt—even Greg. Everybody's suspect."

"Even you, Mr. Drummond?" Aunt Carrie inquired.

He didn't like it.

"Come on, Roney," he said curtly. "Greg Mason is over at the Everard house. There are a few things I want to go into with him."

"Do you think Greg Mason killed Pete?" Aunt Carrie asked.

"There was no answer."

"Are you going to arrest him?" my grand aunt persisted.

"The police will do a lot of checking before they try to pin this crime on anyone in particular," Jack Drummond said. There was relief in his voice too.

"I'll run over to the Everards' with you," I volunteered as Jack got up to leave our terrace. "Nancy must have forgotten that I offered to take the children."

"She wants the twins to stay with her," Jack said.

"She'd better send them to us," Aunt Carrie suggested. "Or they'll find out a lot of things there's no need for them to know. The Commodore wanted them at Rockledge, but I told him Hilda had spoken first."

"The youngsters are staying where they are," Jack was curt about it. "And now before I go, let me warn you both. Don't do any more plain or fancy—fabricating. Tell Peggy that goes for her, too. By the way, where is Peggy?"

"New York," I said.

"Expect her for dinner?"

"Yes."

"She'll probably come on the 6:32 or 6:57."

I nodded.

"It's close to six now. Let's go, Roney."

Jack let Roney get a few steps ahead. Then he said: "Stick a little closer to fact, Hilda. It'll be better if your story checks. And don't talk out of turn. Wait till you're asked. Then be mighty careful what you say."

With that, Jack Drummond went striding off the terrace. I didn't like the set of his shoulders. They had stopped sagging.

Aunt Carrie said: "I wonder if he really thinks Greg did it."

"He may want to think so because, up to now, he's been afraid it's Nancy," I answered. "He knows something he's not telling. . . I wonder if Peggy does, too."

Aunt Carrie sighed. "What can Peggy know? You're forever writing stories, Hilda. Can't you keep 'em on paper?" Then she added: "I wish Nancy Mason had married Jack Drummond instead of Pete Everard. I wonder if she hasn't been wishing that herself for quite a while."

Half an hour after Jack left our house, Chief Calvin and Sergeant O'Toole appeared.

We went to check on a few things we didn't go into with you this morning, Miss Glenn," the chief announced suavely. "Could we be alone?"

Aunt Carrie rose with great dignity. "It's time I dressed for dinner."

ner, which would be pleasanter if Wing were here to serve it."

"Miss Drury's Toya says Wing didn't stir off the place after he got to Beach Cottage at three."

"He's O. K. by me," Roney said and got up with heavy reluctance to open the screen door for Josephine.

"I wouldn't mind sitting down to dinner myself right now. But Chief Calvin's probably looking for me."

"Let's go!" Jack snapped.

"What's all the rush? Why don't you stay to dinner?" I asked. Suddenly it seemed very important to detain them.

Jack's smile was oblique. "A few minutes ago I told you that we were suspicious of everyone who was on the loose at six-fifteen last night. We've got to question them all. Commodore Knowlton, your esteemed aunt—even Greg. Everybody's suspect."

"Even you, Mr. Drummond?" Aunt Carrie inquired.

He didn't like it.

"Come on, Roney," he said curtly. "Greg Mason is over at the Everard house. There are a few things I want to go into with him."

"Do you think Greg Mason killed Pete?" Aunt Carrie asked.

"There was no answer."

"Are you going to arrest him?" my grand aunt persisted.

"The police will do a lot of checking before they try to pin this crime on anyone in particular," Jack Drummond said. There was relief in his voice too.

"I'll run over to the Everards' with you," I volunteered as Jack got up to leave our terrace. "Nancy must have forgotten that I offered to take the children."

"She wants the twins to stay with her," Jack said.

"She'd better send them to us," Aunt Carrie suggested. "Or they'll find out a lot of things there's no need for them to know. The Commodore wanted them at Rockledge, but I told him Hilda had spoken first."

"The youngsters are staying where they are," Jack was curt about it. "And now before I go, let me warn you both. Don't do any more plain or fancy—fabricating. Tell Peggy that goes for her, too. By the way, where is Peggy?"

"New York," I said.

"Expect her for dinner?"

"Yes."

"She'll probably come on the 6:32 or 6:57."

I nodded.

"It's close to six now. Let's go, Roney."

Jack let Roney get a few steps ahead. Then he said: "Stick a little closer to fact, Hilda. It'll be better if your story checks. And don't talk out of turn. Wait till you're asked. Then be mighty careful what you say."

With that, Jack Drummond went striding off the terrace. I didn't like the set of his shoulders. They had stopped sagging.

Aunt Carrie said: "I wonder if he really thinks Greg did it."

"He may want to think so because, up to now, he's been afraid it's Nancy," I answered. "He knows something he's not telling. . . I wonder if Peggy does, too."

Aunt Carrie sighed. "What can Peggy know? You're forever writing stories, Hilda. Can't you keep 'em on paper?" Then she added: "I wish Nancy Mason had married Jack Drummond instead of Pete Everard. I wonder if she hasn't been wishing that herself for quite a while."

Half an hour after Jack left our house, Chief Calvin and Sergeant O'Toole appeared.

We went to check on a few things we didn't go into with you this morning, Miss Glenn," the chief announced suavely. "Could we be alone?"

Aunt Carrie rose with great dignity. "It's time I dressed for dinner."

Chief Calvin leaned forward from the chair. "Miss Glenn, are you trying to keep the police of Havenhurst from apprehending a murderer?"

"No, of course not."

"Then I suggest you be a bit more co-operative. And I also suggest that employees who overhear conversation in the course of serving a dinner are not actually eavesdroppers."

"Perhaps not. Only now when there's so much at stake. . . when a wrong interpretation, even a wrong emphasis, may point to an innocent person. . . I think it's too bad to lay so much stress on what untrained observers presume to remember."

The chief smiled. "That's an ex-

Leonard Angus, Jr., who is stationed there with the U. S. Army Air Corps.

Mrs. Watson and daughter Thelma, Long Island, were week-end and Monday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Watson, Bristol Terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Martin, Jackson street, entertained Mr. and Mrs. James Gardner, Mr. Holly, N. J., from Saturday until Monday.

Miss Frances Barr returned to her home in Ambler after spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Barr, Wilson avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Harper and family, Wilmington, Del., spent Friday until Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harper, Pond street. On Sunday they visited Mr. and Mrs. Ned Moyer, Hulmeville.

Frederick P. Cullen, Sampson, N. Y., spent ten days' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Cullen, Pond street.

HARRISBURG — The blitz that once devastated Great Britain was separated from the heart of Pennsylvania by only eight hours' travel in a modern plane, according to the State Planning Board. The war in North Africa was just 12 hours away.

LEGAL

ESTATE NOTICE

Estate of S. Alice Vansant (also known as Sarah Alice Vansant), late of the Township of Bensalem, Bucks County, Pa., deceased.

Letters of Administration on the above estate having been granted the undersigned, all persons indebted to said estate are requested to present their claims to the undersigned, and all persons having legal claims to present the same to

HENRY A. VANSANT, CHARLES S. VANSANT, Administrators, Bristol, R. D. No. 2, Pa.

VANARTSDALEN & BIESTER, Doylestown, Pa. 9-11-43-61ow.

ESTATE NOTICE

Estate of Carrie R. Yeagle, late of the Borough of Bristol, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

Letters of Administration C. T. A. having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to said estate are notified to make settlement, and all having legal claims against same are requested to present them promptly in proper form for settlement to MELVIN YEAGLE, Administrator C. T. A., Cornwells Heights, Pa.

Or to his attorney, HORACE N. DAVIS, 205 Radcliffe Street, Bristol, Pa. 8-21-61ow

PAID BY GAME COMMISSION
The Pennsylvania Game Commission, at a regular meeting held on the 25th day of July, 1943, by rule and regulations lawfully adopted pursuant to an Act of Assembly passed June 1, 1907, P. L. 125, as amended, and in exercise of powers conferred thereon, fixed open seasons, bag and possession limits, and hunting laws for certain game animals, game birds, and fur-bearing animals during the period from September 1, 1943, to September 30, 1944, and closed seasons, or declared open seasons, for the hunting of certain game animals, game birds, game animals, and fur-bearing animals during said period; also under authority of the Act provided that certain game animals, game birds, and fur-bearing animals (hereinafter called "blackbirds"), effective immediately and continuing until September 30, 1944, and from September 1, 1945, to September 30, 1946, and from September 1, 1947, to September 30, 1948, and from September 1, 1949, to September 30, 1950, and from September 1, 1951, to September 30, 1952, and from September 1, 1953, to September 30, 1954, and from September 1, 1955, to September 30, 1956, and from September 1, 1957, to September 30, 1958, and from September 1, 1959, to September 30, 1960, and from September 1, 1961, to September 30, 1962, and from September 1, 1963, to September 30, 1964, and from September 1, 1965, to September 30, 1966, and from September 1, 1967, to September 30, 1968, and from September 1, 1969, to September 30, 1970, and from September 1, 1971, to September 30, 1972, and from September 1, 1973, to September 30, 1974, and from September 1, 1975, to September 30, 1976, and from September 1, 1977, to September 30, 1978, and from September 1, 1979, to September 30, 1980, and from September 1, 1981, to September 30, 1982, and from September 1, 1983, to September 30, 1984, and from September 1, 1985, to September 30, 1986, and from September 1, 1987, to September 30, 1988, and from September 1, 1989, to September 30, 1990, and from September 1, 1991, to September 30, 1992, and from September 1, 1993, to September 30, 1994, and from September 1, 1995, to September 30, 1996, and from September 1, 1997, to September 30, 1998, and from September 1, 1999, to September 30, 2000, and from September 1, 2001, to September 30, 2002, and from September 1, 2003, to September 30, 2004, and from September 1, 2005, to September 30, 2006, and from September 1, 2007, to September 30, 2008, and from September 1, 2009, to September 30, 2010, and from September 1, 2011, to September 30, 2012, and from September 1, 2013, to September 30, 2014, and from September 1, 2015, to September 30, 2016, and from September 1, 2017, to September 30, 2018, and from September 1, 2019, to September 30, 2020, and from September 1, 2021, to September 30, 2022, and from September 1, 2023, to September 30, 2024, and from September 1, 2025, to September 30, 2026, and from September 1, 2027, to September 30, 2028, and from September 1, 2029, to September 30, 2030, and from September 1, 2031, to September 30, 2032, and from September 1, 2033, to September 30, 2034, and from September 1, 2035, to September 30, 2036, and from September 1, 2037, to September 30, 2038, and from September 1, 2039, to September 30, 2040, and from September 1, 2041, to September 30, 2042, and from September 1, 2043, to September 30, 2044, and from September 1, 2045, to September 30, 2046, and from September 1, 2047, to September 30, 2048, and from September 1, 2049, to September 30, 2050, and from September 1, 2051, to September 30, 2052, and from September 1, 2053, to September 30, 2054, and from September 1, 2055, to September 30, 2056, and from September 1, 2057, to September 30, 2058, and from September 1, 2059, to September 30, 2060, and from September 1, 2061, to September 30, 2062, and from September 1, 2063, to September 30, 2064, and from September 1, 2065, to September 30, 2066, and from September 1, 2067, to September 30, 2068, and from September 1, 2069, to September 30, 2070, and from September 1, 2071, to September 30, 2072, and from September

Harvest Outing Takes Place On Croydon Lawn

CROYDON, Sept. 11.—The Bristol Council, Catholic Daughters of America, held its annual harvest outing on the lawn of Mrs. Henry Lineman's home Wednesday evening.

An old fashioned side show was enjoyed by the guests, and one of the members, Mrs. Marie Roche, a recent bride, was presented with a gift from the junior troops.

A "doggie" roast was enjoyed, and the menu consisted of frankfurters with sourknot, cinnamon buns, and coffee.

There were about 20 present. Mrs. George Benneman and Mrs. Lineman were chairmen in charge. Miss Margaret Tryon entertained with several accordion selections.

In a Personal Way - - -

INTERESTING bits of news mainly about people you know. A chronicle of the activities of the people of Bristol; their goings and comings. - - -

To arrange for publication of weddings, telephone The Bristol Courier, Bristol 845, notifying at least a few days in advance the date of ceremony. Engagement announcements must be submitted in writing.

Mrs. George Dougherty, daughters Joan and Patty. Mrs. George Tronser and daughter Madeline, and Miss Mary Curry have returned from two weeks' vacation spent at Wildwood, N. J. George Dougherty and George Tronser spent last week with their families and returned home with them.

LL (J. G.) and Mrs. R. J. Hunt, of Key West, Fla., are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, on September 6th, in St. Agnes' Hospital, Philadelphia. Mrs. Hunt was the former Miss Ann Hoffman, Pine street.

Pvt. Edward T. Moran, son of Mrs. Anna Moran, Dorrance street,

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor

Bristol Presbyterian Church

We thank Thee, O Heavenly Father, for the opportunity and the privilege of wearing the uniform of the Christian, and of bearing in our lives the marks of the Lord Jesus Christ. May we never be ashamed of the uniform we wear, but may we wear it proudly. May we never be afraid of the task it brings to us, but may we be willing in all things and at all times to follow the command of our Master, and to do His will in all things, firmly trusting and believing that the plan of battle has been properly mapped by Him, and that He holds in His hands the balance of power. May we commit ourselves unreservedly unto Him, who is our Master, our Commander, our Saviour and our Friend. In His Name we pray. Amen.

has been promoted to private first class and is now stationed somewhere in the South Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lentz, Mayfair, spent Friday and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Younger, Taft street. Mrs. Younger, and Mr. and Mrs. James Neill and family, Roosevelt street, William Gratz, Taft street, enjoyed a day at River-view Beach.

Miss Peanie Swinson, Alexandria, Va., spent Friday until Sunday as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crohe, Roosevelt street. The Misses Marie Beers and Gertrude King, Philadelphia, were Sunday guests at the Crohe home.

Pvt. Paul C. Niccol, Camp Forrest, Tenn., is spending 15 days' furlough with his parents, Mr. and

EASE INCOME TAX CARES and have your TAX ESTIMATED CORRECTLY
J. O. THOMPSON
Economist
Ph. 2837 1124 Radcliffe St.

ALL NEXT WEEK

ON TO VICTORY FAIR
STATE FAIR
SEPT. 12 to 18
7 DAYS - 7 NITES

SENSATIONAL PATRIOTIC ENTERTAINMENT
THRILL SHOWS • CIRCUS

HORSE RACING
NEW MILE TRACK
READING FAIR FUTURITY

LIVESTOCK SHOW
POULTRY SHOW
FLOWER SHOW

STATE GRANGE EXHIBITS
INSTITUTIONAL STATE DISPLAYS
FARM & GARDEN SHOW

STATE 4H CLUBS
EDUCATIONAL EXHIBITS

BANDS • PARADES
WAR EXHIBITS
UNITED NATIONS DISPLAYS

THE WORLD ON PARADE
GLORIOUS STAGE SHOW
DAY and NIGHT

IT'S YOUR FAIR... BE THERE!

TRENTON

Special Attraction Nightly
SALLY RAND
In Her Famous Balloon
Dance with Victory Revue

Mrs. Charles Niccol, Franklin street, Pvt. William Duane and Pvt. Louis Davidow, Camp Forrest, Tenn., were Monday overnight guests at the Niccols' home, enroute to their homes in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hankin and family, Philadelphia, and Ensign Samuel Goldstein, New York, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dries, Pond and Market streets.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bruden and Miss Mary Helsel, Swain street, Mrs. May Mulholland and granddaughter, Barbara Halpin, Roosevelt street, Asa Helsel, Tacony, attended the Tettemer-Dillon reunion at Upper Black Eddy, on Sunday.

Miss Anna Mignoni, Mill street, and PFC Forrest Zotery, Rochester, visited Pvt. Zotery's parents in Buffalo, N. Y., over the week-end and Labor Day.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Kupiec and family, Radcliffe street, spent several days this week in Ocean City, N. J.

William Rockel and daughter, Miss Hannah Rockel, Washington street, spent the week-end with relatives and friends in Wilkes-Barre.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Niccol and daughter Mary Lou, East Circle, the Misses Isabel and Julia Sallustio, Jefferson avenue, Mrs. Katharine Basti, Trenton, and Marie and George Capriotti, Wilson avenue, enjoyed three days this week in Atlantic City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Baiocchi, Pine Grove street, spent Sunday visiting Mrs. Baiocchi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Terrani, Jenkintown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Colgan, Roosevelt street, spent last week in Wildwood, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell, Winder Village, spent the week-end in Beach Haven, N. J.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Cary Grant is as good a picker as he is an actor! More than a year ago the popular star read a story by an unknown writer, Milton Holmes, and insisted that RKO Radio buy it for him to appear in. The screen version of that story, "Mr. Lucky," is at the Grand Theatre and proved itself one of the real hits of the season—a gay, engrossing suspenseful piece of film-entertainment that completely justifies Grant's judgment in choosing it as a vehicle.

"Hitler's Madman," showing Sunday on the screen of the Grand Theatre, is a powerful indictment of Nazism and all it stands for and presented in an effective and entertaining manner. Centered around the assassination of the despicable Reinhard Heydrich, superbly portrayed by John Carradine, the film shows the formation of the Czech underground by peasants of a Bohemian village in an effort to help rid themselves of the Nazi aggressor.

BRISTOL THEATRE

The main feature to be shown today at the Bristol Theatre is an

AT FIRST SIGN OF A COLD
USE 666
666 TABLETS. SALVE. NOSE DROPS

Does Your Roof Leak?

A NEW ROOF NOW WILL DO WELL TOWARDS INSULATING YOUR HOUSE-TOP AND SAVING FUTURE DAMAGE - - - AS LOW AS $5 PER MONTH - - - NO DOWN PAYMENT.

Write: SAMUEL ROSEN
Box No. 502, c/o Bristol Courier

Political Advertisement

FOR DEMOCRATIC COMMISSIONER

HOWARD J. BLACK

PRIMARY, SEPT. 14th

Your Vote and Support Respectfully Solicited

WOMEN

BETWEEN 40-55

WILSON DISTILLING CO., INC.

BRISTOL, PENNA.

No Experience Necessary

ALL DAY WORK

APPLY FOR INTERVIEW

PERSONNEL OFFICE

TUESDAY TO FRIDAY

9 A. M. TO 4 P. M.

exciting story of automobile racing, full of suspense and thrills, featuring Pat O'Brien and Ann Sheridan in "Indianapolis Speedway."

The other feature is "Thumbs Up," with Brenda Joyce and the Hot Shots.

Coming Sunday and Monday is John Clements in "At Dawn We Die," and Lucille Ball in "Dance, Girl, Dance."

RITZ THEATRE

Red Skelton returns to the screen

as "The Fox," the detective character he portrayed in "Whistling in the Dark," in another screamingly funny adventure film, "Whistling in Dixie," which opened last night at the Ritz Theatre. Skelton and Ann Rutherford, who plays his sweetheart, find themselves enmeshed in a murder mystery in an old Southern town, and participate in one hilarious adventure after another.

On Sunday, "The Desperadoes" will be shown.

BRISTOL
BUCKS COUNTY'S Finest

LAST TIMES TODAY!
2 Great Hits!
Continuous
From 1 P. M.

Great Action Show!
Suspense! Thrills!
Excitement!

★ Pat O'BRIEN SHERIDAN ★

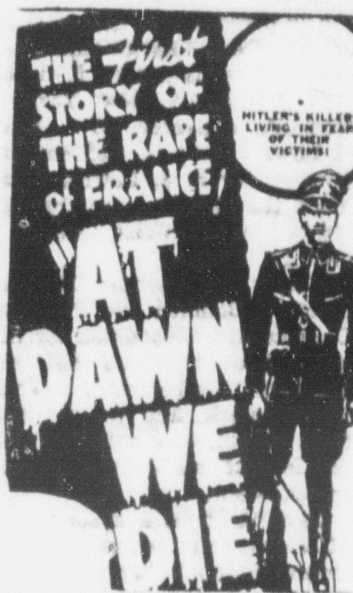

"INDIANAPOLIS

SPEEDWAY"

★

SUNDAY—GALA DOUBLE FEATURE!

Gay Broadway Musical
Filled With Music, Gayety,
Gorgeous Girls and Lafts

★ Lucille Ball ★

Maurine O'Hara

★ Louis Hayward ★

"Dance Girl Dance"

EXTRA!

ALL AMERICAN BAND
Featuring 4 Top Bands

HOW'M I DOIN? - - READ THIS!

UNCLE SAM Says:

"Go ahead, 'Fruit Tree' Morgan; sell all the FRUIT TREES you can; it helps a lot to win the war!"

"FRUIT TREE" MORGAN Says:

"O. K., Uncle Sam; I'm doing just that!"

A penny postal card from you to me will bring me to you—PENTON!

"FRUIT TREE" MORGAN 228 Cleveland St.
Bristol, Pa.

TUNNEL HATCHERY

QUALITY BABY CHICKS

FROM BLOODTESTED BREEDERS

N. H. REDS and BARRED ROCKS

BOX 35, WOODBOURNE, PA.

PROP., H. EJDYS

PHONE LANG. 2380

BE WISE BUY NOW

Government restrictions prohibit further manufacture of certain roofing items that we still have on hand.

Wavey Edge First Quality Asbestos Shingles
$2.76 per Bundle

5-Gal. Cans Asbestos Roof Coating, $2.95

RUBBEROID (Roll) (Nails and Tar Inc.),
Light, $1.35; Medium, $1.55; Heavy, $1.75

Rolls Felt, 12-15-30 lb., $2.25

Square Butt and Hex., All Colors, Shingle

Asphalt, Nails, Spouting, Gutters, etc.
Building Paper

All Colors and Blends Contracted For Are Guaranteed

SATTLER'S

5th Ave. & State Rd.

Croydon, Pa.

Telephone Bristol 2321

Authorized Distributor: Texaco Roofing Products

SCIENTIFICALLY AIR-CONDITIONED

-GRAND-

-SATURDAY-

Mat. at 2.00 P. M.; Evening Continuous, 6.30 to 11.30

Sunday and Monday

Mat. Sun. at 2 P. M. Bargain Mat. Mon. at 2.15

THE ARMY SUCCEEDS IN SPITE OF THEM!

Highest Cash Prices

1940-41 Used Cars

Paul C. Voltz

BRISTOL PIKE

PHONE 2123

FLEETWINGS NINE TO PLAY PRISON TEAM AT SING-SING

Aircraft Workers To Travel
To Ossining, N. Y., For Game Tomorrow

SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Bristol Team Confident That
They Will Defeat
Opponents

The Arrows, Fleetwings stellar baseball team, will journey up to Ossining, N. Y., tomorrow, to play the strong, high-rolling Sing-Sing Prison ball-team.

Riding on the crest of a successful season, the Arrows are confident they will wind-up their schedule with a win over the Ossining boys. Well-rested, the Arrows will present their strongest array of fence-busters in an attempt to "turn-the-key" on the Sing-Sing baseballers.

ANOTHER GAME OF SERIES IS SCHEDULED

The second game of the Bristol Suburban League playoffs will be played tomorrow afternoon on the Maple Beach diamond. Rohm and Haas, with one victory to its credit, will clash with the Diamond nine. Game will begin at two o'clock sharp.

The chemical workers won their game Wednesday night when "Eddie" Sullivan blanked the Diamond boys for a 3-0 triumph. The game was typical of the first played between the two teams which ended in a scoreless verdict.

It is most likely that either Danny Keegan or Dick Hirst will toss them for the Diamond boys against the Maple Beach aggregation. Hirst, in the two games pitched, has allowed one hit per game, although he received assistance from George Friedman in the second game. Keegan has been on the sidelines since the first half but has been pitching with other teams.

"Mike" Carnvale will most likely be Jesse Vanzant's choice to hurl for the Rohm and Haas team. Mike, although getting a late start, has come through with several nice mound victories and he can also wield a good batting stick. If Carnvale doesn't pitch then "Johnny" Dick will toe the slab. Johnny hurled the Rohm and Haas team to a victory over Voltz-Toxaco in the deciding game of the second half.

Jesse Vanzant will handle the slants of the Rohm and Haas hurler while Roy Weiser will do the receiving for the Diamond team. The chemical workers will cling to their regular lineup in the infield and outfield while there will be some changes made in the Diamond lineup due to the fact that the Fleetwings team is scheduled to play and several of the Diamond players are also members of the aircraft team.

CROYDON

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Gibbs entertained Mrs. Nondas McCubbin and sons, Myron and Harding, of Baltimore, Md., for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sharples entertained, on Sunday, Miss Marie Hazen and Thomas Doyle, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Robert Cochran and son, "Bobby," Philadelphia, were Wednesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sharples.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fleming entertained for a few days Mrs. Fleming's aunt, Mrs. Carrie Abernathy, Sunland, Cal.

Mrs. Winfield Gibbs and children, Winfield and Lester, and Mrs. Nondas McCubbin and children spent three days at Seaside Heights, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sperling and son David have returned from a ten day vacation at Cape May, N. J. Miss Alice Jean Sperling returned with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hetherington, Wisconsin, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilkinson.

John F. Dowd, son of Mrs. Margaret Dowd, has been promoted from private to corporal. Corp. Dowd is stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo.

Walter ("Buddy") Williams was the guest of honor at a farewell party on Saturday evening at the home of his sister, Mrs. William Gugger where "Buddy" and his mother reside. Music and dancing were on the program and a luncheon was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams, Mr. and Mrs. E. Pickford and daughters Beverly and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. William Englehart and son, William, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Gugger and children, Jerry, Gene, and Arlene; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Leary and children, Rhema and Karl, Jr.; Mrs. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Enderlin and daughters Hiedie and Hilda, and the Rev. Theodore Kohlmeier. Mrs. Pickford, Mrs. Englehart and Mrs. Gugger are sisters of "Buddy" and Fred Williams is a brother. "Buddy" left on Sunday for the U. S. Naval Training Center at Sampson, N. Y.

Classified Ads deliver the goods.

TULLYTOWN

Mrs. Russell Wyde and daughter Patricia, Croydon, were Monday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Giberson.

Mrs. Jane Starkey, Morrisville, was a Sunday guest of her daughter Mrs. Charles Carlen.

PFC Kenneth Parr is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Parr.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezekial Boulden, and Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Wilmington, Del., were overnight guests Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Clay.

Mrs. Maria Cavin, Penna Grove, N. J., is spending sometime with Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cavin.

James Sibbitt, Trenton, N. J., spent from Saturday to Monday as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wright Carlen.

Norman White, Eugene Termyna, Joseph Cutchineal, Jr., and Joseph Cummings spent from Friday until Monday at Seaside Heights, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright, Miss Catherine Wright and Albert Wright spent Labor Day in New York City.

Mrs. Sadie Grose spent the week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Schofield, Trenton, N. J.

Miss Christine E. Johnson has matriculated at Rider College, Trenton, N. J.

Phillip DiNatale, Gerald Slager and Maurice Cavin, Jr., spent Monday in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cavin and Mrs. Alfred Leedom were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cavin, Penna Grove, N. J.

A "doggie" roast was enjoyed Monday evening by members of the Methodist Sunday School. The affair was held on the school ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson spent the Labor Day week-end at Seaside Heights, N. J.

NEWPORTVILLE

Pfc. Ralph Perpete, U. S. Army, is enjoying a furlough of 15 days at the home of his parents on Ritter avenue.

Mrs. Robert Loper arranged a corn and "doggie" roast at her home on Friday evening in honor of her daughter Janice. Games were enjoyed. Those present: the Misses Eleanor Ehl, Sarah Smith, Jacqueline Ingraham, Marion Weiss, Alice Backhouse; Messrs. George Ehl, Charles Campbell, Thomas Crawford, Raymond Scott, Edward Buck, Robert Loper.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Tibbets and son Allison, Jr., visited in Franklin, N. H., from Thursday until Monday. Mrs. Fred Cotshott entertained the Needle Club at her home on Wednesday afternoon.

LANGHORNE

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bentley Candy and daughter Marjorie D. Candy, and Mrs. Wilmer S. Black spent Labor Day in Vineland and Atlantic City, N. J.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Langhorne Fire Co. will hold a covered dish supper on Saturday for members and friends. The proceeds of the supper will be given to the Jesse W. Soby Post building fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Oakley, Baltimore, Md., were week-end visitors of Mrs. Wilmer S. Black.

Mrs. Frank Sente, Hazleton, was a recent guest of Mrs. George R. Ambler, Jr.

Mrs. Mildred N. Morse and daughter Marian have returned from a visit to friends in Long Island, N. Y. They left on Wednesday for a vacation at Beach Haven, N. J.

Large Portion of Italian Fleet Surrenders To Allies at Malta

Continued From Page One

falling into the hands of the Germans.

Although the communique announcing the arrival of the fleet units at Malta did not immediately disclose the size of the force it was revealed that a large part of the fleet was involved in the surrender.

The Italians, according to latest information, had at least seven battleships and two heavy cruisers, in addition to a number of lighter cruisers and destroyers.

The ports from which the Italian warships put out were not named in the initial announcement. The nearest Italian naval base to Valletta, port of Malta, is Taranto, some 350 miles by sea.

Certain other units of the Italian fleet arrived at Malta in addition to the battleships and cruisers, it was added.

It was indicated that the vessels comprised a large part of the Italian fleet, including the heaviest of Italy's surface units.

They anchored under the safe protection of the Allied defenses on Malta after successfully escaping the grasp of the Germans.

The surrender of the fleet units in accordance with armistice terms considerably brightens Allied prospects on the Italian battlefields, opening the surrounding seas to wider operations.

It is not yet known what has happened to Italy's submarines but it is believed most of them as well as the remainder of the fleet will capitulate in due time. Surrender of all the fleet would leave German submarines operating in the Mediterranean and possibly the Adriatic the only enemy sea forces to contend with in the Mediterranean theatre.

The announcement of the arrival of the warships at Malta was the first official word that Italian vessels had entered Allied ports.

(Madrid sources said yesterday that six Italian warships and a merchant vessel had arrived at Gibraltar. The craft which surrendered there to British authorities were said to include two light cruisers, two destroyers, two small aircraft carriers and a cargo ship.)

Fails To Register; Is Held Under Bail

Continued From Page One

Mrs. Lovett, his mother, states that William is the fourth son to make known his stand on selective service. "Our family for generations has been a pacifist family."

The boys' great grandfather refused to register for the draft during the civil war. We members of the Friends' Society believe that each person has a right to make his own decisions," she stated that although two did register, one of them now serving in a conscientious objectors' camp, William feels that the mere act of registering is the first step toward participation in war, and that he could not conscientiously take part to even that extent. "He felt he should protest at the beginning. He wrote the attorney general prior to his 18th birthday anniversary."

Robert Lovett, 27, a brother of James, is in an objectors' camp at Gatlinburg, Tenn. Another brother, William, 29, is serving three years in the Federal prison at Lewisburg for failure to register, according to Mrs. Lovett, he having been there since December 16th. William, it is stated, failed to register upon his return to the United States from Mexico where he had spent six months in a malaria control project near Vera Cruz with the American Friends Service Committee.

Another brother, Francis, 24, did register, but stated he was a conscientious objector. Physical defects, however, prevent him from being called, state his mother, and he is now working on a dairy farm.

The young men are all graduates of Westtown Friends Boarding School.

TONSILS REMOVED

Keith Hagenbuch, Newtown, had his tonsils removed at Harriman Hospital this morning.

GIRL FOR PRAISE

A daughter was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Prall, Lafayette street, at Harriman Hospital.

INJURES RIGHT ARM

Falling early this morning, Samuel Stevenson, Newportville, injured his right arm. He was treated at Harriman Hospital.

Several Ordered To Pay Support For Their Families

Continued From Page One

wife and son are living at Jamesburg, N. J. They were married in 1932.

Edward Mount, Bristol, was ordered by Judge Boyer to pay the costs of the prosecution and enter on his own recognizance in the sum of $1500 on condition that he keep the peace toward his wife, Margaret, and remain sober. Mount was testified was a heavy drinker and mistreated his wife and lost his job through drink. Charges of desertion and non-support were continued until a future date.

Fernand Fortier, 31, Croydon, was directed by Judge Boyer to pay his wife, Pauline, 317 Prospect avenue, Croydon, and two-year-old daughter, Lorraine Joan, $15 a week for their support.

Charles Smith, 1431 Montgomery avenue, Philadelphia, was granted a parole by Judge Boyer. He was involved in a tire robbery in Bristol and his minimum sentence has expired. He has been in jail since 1939. Smith is 26 years old.

Vincent L. Con was ordered by Judge Calvin S. Boyer this morning to pay $15 a week for the support of his wife, Alberta, and child, to Probation Officer Horace E. Gwinnier by agreement of both parties. He was also directed to pay the costs of prosecution.

Judge Boyer ordered William K. Moyer to pay $9 weekly for the support of his wife, Virginia, and four minor children, the money to be paid to the probation officer. He also ordered the defendant to pay the costs of prosecution. This order was also made on the agreement of both parties and the defendant was given the privilege of visiting his children.

An order of $40 monthly, payable semi-monthly, was made in the case of Ezra Liveinhardt charged with non-support. He was given the privilege of visiting his son, Gerald, by agreement of both parties.

Charged with failure to pay a Court order for the support of his three minor children, Charles Gravensande was brought before Judge Boyer. The order was made in June, 1940, and the defendant that year, so that he is now in arrears in the amount of $480. He has not paid since September of 1940 and was finally contacted when the F. B. I. caught him in Philadelphia for failure to appear after being called for the draft.

The Court directed that he pay the costs of the attachment and pay the sum of $15 per week for the support of three minor children.

Witnesses Testify In Train Wreck Probe

Continued From Page One

They testified on the second day of the hearing into the causes of the wreck, held by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the FBI, and the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, in the offices of J. L. Cranwell, superintendent of the road's Philadelphia Terminal division.

The oiler, Cannon Key, of Washington, D. C., an employee of the Washington terminal since 1924 and the inspector, Franklin H. Hawes, of Brunswick, Md., employed since 1936, both supported the contention of railroad officials that the box was properly oiled and inspected at the beginning of the run.

Officials of the road said Key was assigned specifically to the Congressional, one of the Pennsylvania's speediest expresses, in 1940, because of his excellent record as an oiler.

At the City Morgue, the last of the 79 persons who died as a result of the wreck was identified yesterday as Mrs. Laura E. Roth, 52, of 1947 Broadway, New York. The woman's daughter, Mrs. Kathryn E. Lowry, of Staten Island, wife of Commander S. J. Lowry, U. S. N., made the identification through an old-fashioned wrist watch and dental fillings.

Meanwhile, Coroner Herbert M. Goddard thanked the Philadelphia Undertakers Association for the assistance of 39 of its members in preparing the bodies of victims for identification, and praised the efforts of police, the Red Cross and officials of his own staff at the wreck scene.

Last night, at a special meeting of night shift employees of the Cramp Shipbuilding Co., Henry E. Russell, company president, lauded 40 employees, including acetylene burners, machinists, riggers and electricians, who toiled long hours in freeing wreck victims on the night of the crash.

Morrisville Club Programs Announced

Continued from Page One

man of the event. For the last meeting of the month, September 30th, Samuel Grathwell is scheduled to speak on "Getting By Your Hoodoo."

Several of the Rotarians were guests of out-of-town clubs during August. They included: Charles Boehm, Harrisburg Rotary; Warren Bietsch, Chambersburg Rotary; Dr. Diesel, Hughesville Rotary; James Wood and Andrew Chamberlin, Tunkhannock Rotary; and Harry Simpson, Newburgh, N. Y. Rotary.

Olin Work has been elected a new member of the club.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Continued From Page One

belief that the end will come in 1943 or in 1944. The men, both

British and American, whose position entitles them to the best judgment say that while they do not altogether rule out the possibility of a psychological German collapse, it would be a great mistake to take that possibility into their calculations and it is not being done. They point out further that the Germans have not far from 300 unbeaten divisions of highly trained, perfectly equipped and thoroughly experienced soldiers in Europe—which means they have the greatest army in Europe.

WITH THEIR Axis partners being knocked out, conquered nations revolting and friendly nations falling away from them, and all the while pounded from the air, the Germans ultimately can be driven back into their own central fortress. But—and this is the point they emphasize—through 1943 and 1944, the Germans will be still capable not only of formidable resistance but of a formidable counter offensive. Even when driven back into that central fortress, there will remain with them the power of a "leopard leap" out of the cage, which, perhaps, would not change the inevitability of victory, but surely would postpone it and increase its cost.

AS TO THE sort of "second front" demanded by the Russians, that will come, but it will come when we are ready for it and not before. The Italian collapse brings us closer, of course, but wars are won, said one very high authority, by doing wise things, not foolish things. And it is infinitely better for us all—Russia as well as the British and ourselves—to win what, mistakenly, may seem to some a series of small, selfish victories than to indulge in one great and generous defeat. In brief, the men who are running this war for us and for the British, confident as they are of the inevitable victory, are not making the mistake of minimizing the power of the enemy and do not intend to be prodded into doing the foolish thing that might greatly prolong the war and add terribly to its cost.

WILLING To take every justifiable risk and to pay any reasonable price, they do not propose, flushed with recent successes, to take unjustifiable risks or be pushed into paying a devastating price. It is a fortunate thing that the military conduct of the war, on the Allied side is in the hands of men capable of making this kind of decision and sticking to it. Under existing conditions, that is the great basic fact that makes victory inevitable—unless we suddenly let down or let up. In this country, failure to put this pending loan over in a big way would be doing just that. Again, let it be repeated that no victory is so inevitable that it cannot be thrown away. No leaders are so wise and no army so brave that they cannot be ruined in the field by governmental incompetency or by the inertia and indifference of the civilian population at home.

Clifford L. Anderson

Continued From Page One

he could never hope to fulfill, Clifford Anderson was a man of action whose dynamic personality was as contagious as it was illuminating.

In 1905, he organized the Bristol Patent Leather Company and became its first president. The business grew and prospered under his Aladdin-like touch. His genius for organization helped to make it one of the largest industries of its kind in the world. While directing this enterprise, he also became president of the Keystone Leather Company with headquarters in Camden, N. J.

Notwithstanding the multitudinous demands of private industry, Clifford Anderson's interest in civic affairs was so genuine and persistent that at the urging of friends, he entered the political arena and was elected borough councilman for four years. His penetrating insight into public matters and his homespun philosophy in dealing with them stamped him as a virile champion of Bristol's future. It was inevitable that the people with whom he lived and worked and planned would recognize his innate qualities of leadership. In 1917, after successfully campaigning on the Republican ticket, Clifford Anderson became burgess of Bristol, a post he held continuously until the time of his death.

There are many milestones of community progress

The Mutt
THAT
Cost $1200

Sport didn't mean to. He was a nice dog. But he got excited. A child... and the damage suit was for $1200.

There's a lesson for all families... dog owners or not. Accidents happen... and you might be liable... and be sued. Protect yourself with the new $10.00-a-year Employers' Group Family Liability Policy. Ask The Man with the Plan for complete details today.

THE EMPLOYERS' GROUP MAN IS
The Man with the Plan

JAMES G. JACKSON
Every Type of Insurance

BOX 54, CROYDON, PA. BRISTOL 7734

SERGEANT PAT OF RADIO PATROL

By EDDIE SULLIVAN
and CHARLIE SCHMIDT

FOR PETE'S SAKE, BEAT IT! I'VE SEEN TOO MUCH OF YOU

THE GUY'S GONE TOO... I DON'T KNOW WHAT I COULD HAVE ARRESTED THEM FOR ANYWAY

I WONDER WHAT PAT'LL SAY ABOUT ALL THIS